My name is Christina and I am a Fashion, Beauty, and Lifestyle blogger based out of Los Angeles. I have my degree in Communications and Public Relations from Grand Valley State University in Michigan. Along with focusing on my social media platforms, I am the founder of The Mae Agency, a Digital Communications Agency.

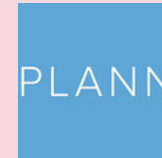

I moved to Los Angeles just over 9 years ago with a goal to work in the Fashion and Entertainment industry. Now that I have been able to step foot into both industries I am more passionate than ever and really looking forward to seeing where this takes me.
